

Glenn Yamada

Counsel

About

Glenn is a seasoned e-discovery attorney at Hilgers, where he brings over a decade of expertise working in high-stakes, complex litigation. With a focus on cross-border cases, Glenn has extensive experience handling cases involving Japanese-language within the fields of intellectual property, antitrust, and compliance. His fluency in Japanese and deep understanding of both U.S. and Japanese legal frameworks allow him to navigate intricate international legal issues with precision.

Glenn works closely with law firm partners, associates, and legal teams to ensure smooth communication and alignment on case goals. His focus is always on understanding his clients' needs and providing the type of support they require.

Glenn also serves as the Compliance Officer for the Red String Foundation, supporting its mission of improving education, senior care and community outreach. In his personal life, Glenn enjoys spending time with his wife and dog and singing 80s karaoke at local venues.
