

John Natividad

Chief Technology Officer

About

John brings two decades of experience guiding both domestic and multi-national clients through complex cross-border Technology, E-Discovery, Forensic, and Data Analytics matters across all sectors.

Previous experience includes developing bespoke and holistic technology solutions for clients involved in complex litigation and discovery including investigations, regulatory responses, and class action lawsuits.

As the Chief Technology Officer of the firm's HG Edge Service, John oversees all client facing technology solutions and helps clients leverage the latest innovations to maximize efficiency, mitigate risk, and reduce cost.

Prior to joining Hilgers, John was a management consultant at multiple global consultancies, including Big Four accounting firms. He is currently based in Tokyo, Japan after previously living in Los Angeles, New York, Hong Kong, and Singapore. He has delivered services across numerous locations in the US, APAC, and EU.

John currently calls Tokyo, Japan home and proudly supports Los Angeles sports teams. During his leisure time he enjoys basketball, cycling, exploring the city, finding off the beaten path restaurants with no English menus, and discovering new technology.

Contact

424-610-6755

jnatividad@hilgerslaw.com

Education

Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University, MBA
The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology, MBA
California State Polytechnic University-Pomona, B.S., cum laude, Computer Information Systems, Organizational Communications

Experience

- Deloitte
- AlixPartners
- KPMG
- Domingo Elias & Vu APLC