About

Paige joined Hilgers in 2017 and works exclusively with our EDGE e-discovery team. Her experience on the EDGE team runs the full spectrum, from long-term complex matters to intense, time-sensitive reviews.

Paige received her JD from Vanderbilt University in 2000, and upon graduation, joined the Boston office of Goodwin Procter LLP. At Goodwin Procter, Paige practiced as an associate in the Business/Corporate Department where she specialized in securities law and advised public and private companies concerning a wide range of corporate governance matters. Before attending law school, Paige graduated cum laude from Harvard University.

Paige currently resides in Connecticut with her husband and two children. When she isn't managing documents for our clients, Paige enjoys skiing, hiking and traveling with her family.
