Drew Bjorklund

Associate

About

Drew's practice focuses on antitrust and financial matters in complex disputes. He has helped achieve successful resolutions for clients across a wide range of industries, including dozens of cases as lead counsel. Drew has experience in federal and state courts at both the trial court and appellate levels. Drew has obtained a full defense decision as counsel in a trial court case, and has been able to advise and procure favorable settlements for clients big and small. His complex litigation experience includes representing financial services companies, international pharmaceutical manufacturers, and metals companies.

Before joining Hilgers, Drew was an associate at the Pittsburgh office of Jones Day. He served a judicial extern for former chief judge Marvin Aspen in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Drew graduated cum laude from Northwestern Pritzker School of Law, where he served a student attorney in the Bluhm Legal Clinic Center on Wrongful Convictions, where he helped obtain an exoneration for a wrongfully convicted client.Drew also served as an associate editor for the Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology. Before law school, Drew graduated from Wheaton College (IL) with degrees in Philosophy and Economics.

Beyond casework, Drew loves spending time with his family and church community. He volunteers at Orchard Hill Church in the Strip District, and has been involved in myriad community events through Pittsburgh non-profits. In addition, Drew is an active member of the Allegheny County Bar Association's basketball league.
